London.-The Bulgarians, according to their official report, have reached Uskup, an important junction on the Saloniki-Nish railway, and thus have placed themselves across the route by which the allies' re-enforcements for the Serbs would travel.

The Austro-Germans in the north begun a more vigorous offensive and have crossed the Danube near Orsova. This brings much nearer the linking up of the armies of the Germanic allies and those of Bulgaria and the opening of the way through Bulgaria to Constantinople.

Serbs Make Advance Costly. Success is not being achieved without heavy losses, as the Serbians' veterans, well intrenched in their mountains, are offering stubborn resistance and are making the invaders pay a big price for every mile of country

French troops are fighting beside the Serbs in the southeastern section and reports from Athens say that other steps are being taken by the allies to help their small partner. Additional troops are being landed at Saloniki.

KEEPING SUGAR TAX

TELLS WOMEN Wise Course Is That Taken by the Administration.

> European War, That Has Dislocated Commerce and Industry, Makes the Step in the Highest Degree Advisable.

World-wide war, dislocating comnerce and industry, reduced finance and credit to chaos and made a jest of economics. The new tariff has failed as a revenue producer solely for the reason that the conditions to which it was adjusted have been shot away by a dozen nations in conflict.

It was the expectation of the Wilson administration and congress that under more liberal customs rates the total receipts, while more evenly distributed, would not be greatly di-minished, and that the loss of revenue in providing for free sugar and molasses, effective May I next, would be more than offset by the income tax That this hope would not be realized was plainly seen last year when the emergency war taxes were levied.

In their conclusion to ask congress for a renewal of the war taxes and the repeal of the free-sugar and molasses clause of the tariff, the president and secretary of the treasury are fully justifled by facts. The situation that confronts them is abnormal. While hostilities last there is no possibility of a customs revenue, no matter what the rates may be, that will equal the requirements of the treasury. until peace shall have been restored will it be advisable for the United States to enter upon experimental reforms in taxation or relinquish any of its imposts that, like the sugar tariff, are highly productive of reve-

Want Political Tariff.

In this last fiscal year our purhases of foreign goods were smaller by $200,000,000 than in the year beore, and at the end of the period commodity prices in the United States, as reflected by Bradstreet's index numper, were the highest ever known. But in spite of that the country, our protectionist friends tell us, is being mysteriously ruined by the pauper labor of Europe

The aforesald labor is getting killed and maimed to an extent that appalls the world. Factories in which it was employed are increasingly disorgan ized by war. The capital behind it is being shot away at the rate of tens of nillions of dollars a day But those things were mere broken reeds to lean upon, unless we are further fortified against European competition by a very high tariff.

You might sink Europe in the sea tomorrow, and your true high protec tionist would still go about pale and trembling unless he had in his pocket he rabbit's foot of high duties to fend off the specter of pauper labor. A Europe with both arms in a sling and not leg to stand on would still frighten him into gooseflesh unless he had the tariff borseshoe over his door.

So the tariff will no doubt be one of the issues of the next presidential election, and if the Republicans win we shall have another revision of it. The loudest champions of high protection do not want an intelligent tariff: they want a political one, with the usual log-rolling.-Saturday Evening Post.

Turn to New Campaign Cry. Attacks on the administration con tained in the Massachusetts Republiean platform show that the "hard times" cry has died out. Not even in calling the tariff a failure is there an appeal to the voters on the ground that President Wilson has prostrated the nation's industries quet of the Home Market club of Boston Senator Sherman of Illinois denounced the "indefensible cruelty of the Wilson tariff," and was seconded by John Hays Hammond, but neither of them hinted that relief Only yesterday I was reading of a from erstwhile depression is a mere accident of war Protection may be espoused, but it will be with an eye to post-bellum conditions. In his recent speeches in the West, Senator Weeks has been telling the Republicans that the Democrats would be defeated next year-if defeated at all -upon the question of the success or failure of Wilson's foreign policies. Massachusetts platform bears this theory out, but it must be plain to the Republicans that the issue is hazardons. If the goals reached in our relations with Mexico and Europe please the people, they are not going to look askance at mistakes in detail.

Safe Statement.

In announcing that the president approves Secretary McAdoo's plan to retain the duty on sugar and re-enact the law providing for the special war tax, the correspondents are taking no chances. It is just as safe to say that the two measures will receive a large majority vote in congress.

Democratic Harmony,

"Many of my Republicar friends predicted that the Democrats in the Sixty-fourth congress would not be able to keep together, and furthermore that President Wilson would not be able to get through his legislative program this winter, but from all I can see harmony will prevail," said D. G. Clinton of Washington, D C. "The Democratic majority is considerably diminished, but that very fact should result in all the greater cohesion in the party. I think congress will have an exceptionally harmonious session.

Unreasonable Protectionists. The protectionists are pressing for the restoration of customs duties designed to exclude foreign goods They are blind to what is passing if they fail to see that we cannot export if we do not import. The disorders of the exchange market would be felt by our selves as now they are felt by for eigners if we put ourselves in their place and limited our imports to what we could pay for in gold over and above an export trade crippled by the limitations of imports. Surely this must be plain to all.

LET HIS OPPORTUNITY GO

Now New York Lawyer Is Regretting His Lack of Foresight That Cost Fortune.

"I suppose every ma: who has lived very long among the tren who do things looks back with some degree of regret upon not exactly what he has lost, but what he might have had if his foresight had been as good as his hindsight," said a New York lawyer. "I am one of these, and it didn't happen a great while ago, either.

'An inventive friend of mine who had given me his legal business to attend to came around one day with a new thing in doing something or other to rubber and told me if I cared to go in half with him I could do so by putting up a certain amount of money The amount was small enough, but hadn't any to spare and less to lose and told him I was satisfied with the legal part of my connection, and care to risk any of my hardearned savings. He wasn't broke by a whole lot, and told me he wasn't offering the chance to anybody and I'd better take it, but I wouldn't be persuaded. He gave me a gentle laugh of scorn and went his Not long after he went abroad with his invention and was gone three or four months, letting me hear from him occasionally, and saying all was going well. Next I had a cablegram telling me when he was sailing, and to meet him the following week Tuesday at a certain dock. I was there when the ship came in, and he was feeling so good that he fairly yelled at me as he came down the gang way. And he had reason to yell and I had reason to kick myself, for he had sold his process or invention for $735,000 in cash and $2,250,000 in the stock of the new corporation. see I would have been a millionaire that very minute if my foresight had been worth anything and I had taken his offer when I had the chance. Of course it meant some luck to me, for the fees grew, and I got $20,000 or more out of it, but $20,000 doesn't make a millionaire, does it?"

Big Field of Sweet Peas. The largest single field of sweet peas in the world is to be found in southern California, near Redondo, London Tit-Bits states. It comprises 350 acres, in which are grown sweet peas of nearly every known variety and color. It constitutes a truly in teresting sight, and the fragrance from the flowers loads the air so heavily as to be almost unbearable. Another single field of carnations, 20 acres in area, located near by, yearly affords a similar marvelous sight.

Besides these immense fields of sweet peas and carnations there are many smaller areas in California devoted, respectively, to the growing for market of chrysanthemums, violets, daisies, asters, dahlias, all kinds of lilies, roses and so forth. They are cultivated in much the same way as vegetables, requiring on an average about the same care. Many of the flowers are sold through the flower shops of the cities, but the chief income to the growers comes from the sale of seeds. The annual shipments of flower seeds from California amount to many tons.

Novel Fruit Barrels,

A partitioned barrel has been in vented by a fruit man in British Columbia, patents for which have been applied for in Canada and this country. It is similar to any ordinary barrel, according to a commerce report, but it is divided into two equal parts by partitions which are adjusted so that the barrel may be sawed in two without injuring the contents, practically making two half barrels. The advantages claimed for the new barrel are that it can be made of cheap sawed lumber, shipped in the down" state and easily at the packing house; also that the fruit can be shipped without wrapping because of the firmness imparted by the central partition. The fruit shipped in it is said to arrive in perfeet condition.
